

Deficit Reduction Act of 2005 The Affordable Care Act

Rebalance long-term care systems by assisting Medicaid eligible individuals leave institutions and move back into the community.

And helping them stay in the community by funding Home and Community-based services!

6677

Many Americans who need long-term care services and supports would prefer to receive them in home- and community-based settings rather than in institutions.

Many people admitted to institutions each year have needs that result in a long-term institutional residency, despite a desire to return home.

Indiana was approved in 2007 and began to transition individuals out of Nursing Facilities who could safely be supported in their desire to live in the community.

In 2012, Indiana was approved to provide transition services and supports to youths from Psychiatric Residential Treatment Facilities (PRTFs) who are returning home.

- 1. Assist individuals to return to living safely in the community
- 2. Prevent the individual from needing to return to a facility to be safe

Multi-Phase Program

- Referral
- Enrollment
- Participation
- Transfer to Supplemental Funding source

Persons who meet the eligibility requirements for the program are provided assistance to safely move out of institutions and back into the community.

After returning home, MFP funds in-home community-based services for 365 Participation Days.

During this time, the participant's case manager monitors their safety and well-being and assists in ensuring that their community-based needs are being met.

Because there are times when a person needs to return to a facility for short term assistance (that isn't respite), it is possible to pause and then to resume MFP Participation.

Age... Like how a person wishing to utilize the MFP-PRTF program must be between the ages of six (6) and seventeen (17)!

SLIGHT DIFFERENCES FOR THE MFP-PRTF PROGRAM

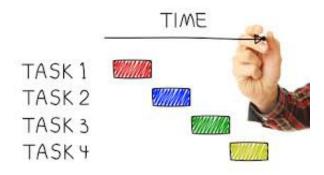

The Transition Team for MFP-PRTF program youth does not require the presence of the youth, though it is preferred if possible

The Transition Team will dissolve into a Child and Family Team with the addition of a Wraparound Facilitator to the case

A youth will only be returned to the home of a legal guardian

Participation Period

365 participation days Supports and services funded and managed by MFP Regular contact with MFP case management

MFP program participants are required to have a Case Manager or a Wraparound Facilitator as an MFP-funded service for the full Participation Period

During the Participation Period the MFP Program provides case management and, for youths, wraparound facilitation, to ensure the participant can remain in the community as safely as possible.

During the Participation Period, the MFP Program mirrors much of the way that the chosen Supplemental Funding source works...

Consumer Choice
Service Plan Development
Budget Preparation and Review
Claiming for Services Rendered
Reporting Incidents

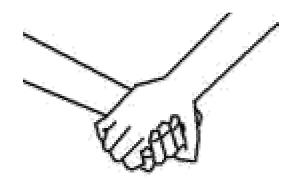

EXCEPT FOR THE MFP-PRTF PROGRAM

It was designed to work similar to an older DMHA program for children

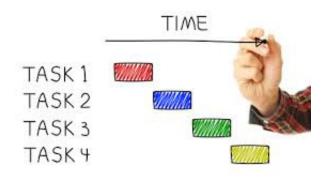

When an MFP-PRTF participant leaves the program, for whatever reason, the MFP program must be notified

The MFP Program must suspend participation in the program if the participant is no longer residing in the community, or if services are being funded through a different source, or if the person no longer meets the qualifications of the program.

This includes situations such as admission to a hospital, or incarceration or if the participant leaves the state.

Referral

Indiana's MFP program is not a permanent funding source and can only fund a participant for 365 participation days after discharge.

Federal regulations for the MFP program require that a MFP participant receive 'Continuity of Care' following their participation in the MFP program.

Throughout the Participation period, the MFP case manager or MFP wraparound facilitator will regularly meet with the participant to ensure that they continue to meet the eligibility criteria for that funding source and work towards any adjustment in services and supports that may occur.

At the end of 365 participation days in the MFP program, funding for the supports received by the participant will change from the MFP program to the partnering funding source that the participant chose during MFP Enrollment.

And their time with the MFP Program ends.
